8.2 If you identify a transaction that you believe was not authorized by you or was executed incorrectly, you must inform us, without undue delay and in any case not more than 07 days from the date of the transaction. We will take all reasonable and necessary measures to recover any loss and there will be no maximum limit to your liability, except the possible cases where such limits are imposed by the applicable laws or regulations. Therefore, you must take care of your FIDELITY CARD and its data and act responsibly, otherwise you will be held responsible.
